

National Council Representative

Job Description:

To represent the Northwest Suburban Council (NWSC) in matters that pertain to the National Council. If unable to attend to matters of the National Council, they would select a substitute, with the help of the NWSC Scout Executive, and the approval of the Council Executive Committee.

To attend the Council Executive Committee meetings and have voting privileges at those meetings.

To develop and foster the relationship between the NWSC and the Council Executive Committee and the Council's Executive Board and the Council's Advisory Board of the NWSC. You are the direct communication link between the Council Executive Committee and Council Board Members. To actively communicate with Board Members about NWSC "needs" and bring the Board Members ideas back to the Council Executive Committee.

To identify Board Member's strengths, skills and sphere of influence that can be utilized by the NWSC in fulfilling the Aims and Methods of Boy Scouting in our communities. To work with the Vice President of Scouting Power to help identify potential new board members.

To work on special projects as deemed necessary by either the Council President or the Executive Committee with the approval of the Council President.

To look for new ideas and present them to the Council Officers.

To attend committee meetings at the request of either the Council President or Vice-President. At these meetings they would be considered a guest and their attendance would be for informational purposes only. They would not be able to speak at the meeting unless called upon by the meeting's chairman, nor may they try to take control of the meeting. They would have no voting power at the meeting. At the request of a Council Vice President who could not attend a committee meeting, this person could act as chairman of the meeting with prior approval of the Council President.

To act as the Council's Ombudsman under the direction of either the Council's President or the Council Scout Executive.
